

White Rose
university consortium
Universities of Leeds, Sheffield & York

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND THE BIOSCIENCES

White Rose IPBio Symposium

Devonshire Hall, University of Leeds, 7th July 2010

Robert Cook-Deegan (Institute for Genome Sciences and Policy, Duke)

"Gene Patents and Policy: The Neverending Story"

Daniel Kevles (History, Yale)

"Enforcing Intellectual Property Rights in Fruit Trees and Plants: Contracts, Patents and the Courts in the 1920s and Now"

Bronwyn Parry (Geography, Queen Mary, London)

"Patents and the Challenge of 'Sharewaring' in Post-Genomic Bioscience:
The Case of Model Mice"

Jane Calvert (Innogen, Edinburgh)

"Ownership, Sharing and Community-Building in Synthetic Biology"

Aurora Plomer (SIBLE, Sheffield),

"Patent Boundaries: Global Challenges in Emerging Fields of Science"

Antony Taubman (IP Division, WTO)

"Rights to Exclude, and Rights to be Included:

Reviewing the Ethical Basis for IP in the Life Sciences"

Lady Lisa Markham (Harrison Goddard Foote, patent attorneys, Leeds):

"Tiptoeing around Restrictions in Biotechnology Inventions: A Practitioner's Experience"

Rebecca Eisenberg (Law, Michigan)

"The Future of Diagnostic Patents"

The registration fee which covers lunch and coffee is £60.00, though it is hoped that a student subsidy will be available. To register for the symposium please contact Mr Berris Charnley, email: Berris.Charnley@gmail.com, postal address: Centre for History and Philosophy of Science, University of Leeds, Leeds LS2 9JT.

Sheffield
Institute of Biotechnological
Law and Ethics

The IPBio Network

